Satori on the occasion of Navruz!

With sincere hopes and best wishes, I congratulate all of you, dear colleagues, on the coming of the great holiday Navruz. I wish you joy and happiness, pride and great achievements in your work during these bright spring days.

A matter of immense pride is that at the initiative of the Founder of Peace and National Unity, the Leader of the Nation, the President of the Republic of Tajikistan, the honorable Emomali Rahmon, the ancient holiday Navruz has gained new life and global status, presenting our national history and values to world civilization.

Navruz is considered one of the oldest and most beautiful holidays, which brings fresh energy to both nature and people. It promotes the unity of hearts and inspires creativity, the accomplishment of good deeds, kindness, and carries a cultural mission, spreading knowledge, and, most importantly, contributing to unity and integration.

Another virtue of Navruz is the unity of people and happiness. From this perspective, I also wish you that Navruz, with its bright light, guides you every year along the path of peaceful life, stability, and prosperity of our beloved Homeland in an atmosphere of well-being and mutual understanding.

May Navruz with its unique traditions, rich customs, and abundance of happiness bring prosperity and safeguard you from suffering. May this holiday be remembered by the entire world community as an example of the great wisdom of our ancestors and the most beautiful among all holidays.

Once again, I congratulate you on the arrival of Navruz! I wish your faces always adorned with smiles, and your hearts remain pure and bright, like the sun of this beautiful holiday. May your mood always be filled with joy, and your table – abound with elegance and wealth.

May happiness, joy, success, and peaceful skies accompany you in all your endeavors.
